Specialized License Information

Trapping License

A state trapping license allows an individual to trap fur-bearing animals throughout the state. Traps may not be placed on private property without permission as described in Revised code of Washington 77.32.191. Trapping licenses expire on April 1st following the date of issue. First time trapper licenses must submit a "trapper's certificate" or pass an examination to establish that the applicant has the requisite knowledge. Only those trappers who submit their previous year's trapper report no later than April 10th of each year will be allowed to renew their license.

Game Farm License

Person's who held a game farm license prior to January 1, 1992 may continue to possess, propagate, sell, and transfer wildlife lawfully possessed by virtue of the license issued by the department. Transfers of wildlife other than the following are restricted according to Washington Administrative Code 232-12-027(1). Game farms licensed on or after January 1, 1992 may purchase, possess, propagate, sell or transfer the following birds: pheasant of the genus Phasianus; gray partridge of the genus Perdix; chukar partridge of genus Alectoris; quail of the genus Lophortyx Colinus, Callipepla, and Oreortyx; and water fowl of the family Anatidae. Applicants must comply with criteria stated in the Washington Administrative Code.

Taxidermist

A taxidermy license allows the holder to practice taxidermy for profit in Washington state. Records of wildlife received are required and must be maintained at the place of business on forms provided by the department or pre-numbered forms belonging to the dealer.

Fur Dealer

A fur dealer license allows the holder to purchase, receive, or resell raw furs for profit in Washington state. Records of wildlife received are required and must be maintained at the place of business on forms provided by the department or pre-numbered forms belonging to the dealer.

Falconry Licenses

In addition to a hunting license, a falconry license is required to possess or hunt with a raptor, including seasons established exclusively for hunting in that manner. A license will not be issued until the individual passes a written test given by the department and facilities to be used are inspected. Falconry licenses expire the same date as the federal falconry permit which runs on a three year cycle.

Notification Clause

The Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife receives federal financial assistance through the federal aid in fish and wildlife restoration acts. Any person who believes they have been discriminated against because of race, color, national origin, age or handicapping condition in a program, activity, or facility operated by the department, should write to: USFWS, Department of Interior, 18th & C Streets NW, Washington DC 20241. The complaint must include your name, address, phone number, date of incident, and reason you believe you have been discriminated against.
